ANOTHER GREAT CURE!

Raleigh, September 24, 1836.

I am now 58 years of age—when in my 18th year, I received a wound on my left leg, which became ulcerated, and continued so until the first of March last. It would occasionally heal up, and then break out again; but most of the time, it was in a very painful condition, the sore having extended to a large size, and become very deep. I tried many remedies to make a cure, without success, until I applied Gray's Invincible Ointment, two pots of which have effectually cured my leg, and reduced it to its natural size. The cure would have been made much sooner, had I strictly attended to the directions for the use of the Ointment; but this I failed to do, while I took much exercise, and very imprudently used tight bandage. My leg has been well for more than six months; during which time, I have walked much, yet it remains firm and free from all soreness or inflammation. After having been afflicted for a period of forty-one years, I now enjoy the benefit of a sound leg again.

Race Extraordinary.—We understand, some time last week, six lawyers and the Judge, on their way to Lincoln court, in this State, were jogging along quite leisurely, in Indian file, when the fifth horse became alarmed at something in the road, and started, upset the gig, threw out the driver, and scattered books, papers, &c., in every direction;

He soon came up with the fourth horse, which also took alarm, and served his master in the same way. The two horses now kept going ahead, and succeeded in overtaking the third, second, and first horses, all of which took the alarm, and went ahead; but thinking their load too heavy, and seeing the advantage their opponents had over them, soon knocked their sulky to pieces, scattered books, papers, lawyers, and all in the road, and then endeavored to overtake Nos. 4 and 5, but whether they succeeded or not, we are uninformed. All of this took place within four or five miles of the courthouse; and although the five sulkies were knocked into a cocked hat, we are happy to learn that the lawyers were worse scared than hurt.—Geo. Constitutional.

Warm Clothing no. Crump.—Mr. Eberle, in his excellent work on the diseases of children, says the mode of clothing infants with their necks and upper part of the breast bare, cannot fail to render them more subject to the influence of cold, and its dangerous consequences. In this country, especially among the Germans, who are in the habit of clothing their children in such a manner as to leave no part of the breast and lower portion of the neck exposed, a crop is an exceedingly rare disease. Whereas in cities,
